

TRINITY TRIUMPH

September 2011

Between the Times August 23, 2011

We had a great day with Kyle Ballantine last Sunday. It was his last service as organist before leaving for Cleveland Music Institute, where he will begin his Master's Degree studies. We've really enjoyed Kyle during the past year, and wish him well, even though we will miss his talent and his delightful personality. He has promised to come back and play for us again from time to time as he continues his studies.

Knowing that Kyle would be leaving by the end of the summer, we began looking for a new organist last spring. The pool of available organists who have the talent and the willingness to take on a weekly commitment to playing services is dwindling. Betty conducted an exhaustive search and found no one to take the position on a regular basis. There are substitutes available, but no one to play every Sunday. We then placed an advertisement on the website and newsletter of the American Guild of Organists chapter in Columbus. That brought some immediate results.

Among the candidates we invited to come to Zanesville to interview and audition for us, one stood out as a favorite. His name is Clement R. Burton (you can call him Clem), from Columbus. He is a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan University, and has studied at Peabody Conservatory and Westminster Choir College. In addition of being an accomplished organist, Clem is also experienced in choral conducting and bell choir directing.

As it happens, I've known him since I was a teenager. He was the Organist-Director of Choral & Handbell ensembles at First United Methodist Church in Middletown, OH. I grew up there, and was studying with the Organist-Choir Director at First Presbyterian Church. Clem used to let me come over and play the Methodist organ. In the mid-60's, they installed a nice, new instrument by Reuter. That was my first experience with a shiny new organ, and Clem was gracious to share it.

He retired from that church after more than thirty years presiding over the two organs. But, fairly immediately after that, the Presbyterian Church of Hamilton, OH, persuaded him to come and play for them. For a number of years, he has been making two trips a week from Columbus to Hamilton for choir rehearsals and Sunday services. He says he's ready for a shorter drive! Meanwhile, there is in Middletown a Clem Burton Scholarship for young people who are pursuing organ education.

It was quite by accident that we re-discovered one another after so many years. Clem was attracted by our advertisement. When he came to visit, he found himself attracted to our church, our organ, and us. We were pleased with him, and I'm sure you all will find him a good fit for Trinity. We will welcome Clem with cookies and coffee after his first service on September 4th.

Journaling the S.O.A.P. method

Journaling is an excellent way to both record and process what God reveals during our time with Him. It is also useful to be able to review the nuggets of wisdom we've discovered. And, let's be honest, we all tend to forget God's blessings and the important lessons He teaches if we don't write them down.

S for scripture

Take time as you read to allow God to speak. Was there a verse that particularly spoke to you? Write the verse number or the verse verbatim or paraphrased in your journal.

O for observation

How does this verse fit in with the surrounding verses? Why was this said? What do you think caused this response? Does this cause you to think of other passages? Record your thoughts.

A for application

Personalize what you have read. How does it apply to your life right now? IS it instruction, encouragement, revelation of a new promise, or correction for a particular area of your life? Write how this passage applies to you today.

P for prayer

Ask God to help you understand what you have read and what He wants to reveal to you. Remember, prayer is a two way conversation, so be sure to listen to what He has to say. Record your prayer in your journal.

Trip to the Animal Shelter

Meet after church at 12:00 to have a quick prayer before we head over to the Animal Shelter to help walk to dogs. Sadly the cats have contracted a highly contagious disease, so we will not be playing with them on this visit. Additionally we have been warned by the shelter to not enter the cat area to prevent the spread of this disease to outside cats. We'll walk the dogs until about 1:30 or 2:00 and they head home. This is the first official youth meeting of the year—be sure to say hi to our new members Maria, Ally and Kaleigh! RSVP on facebook or with the church office.

Potluck after church

The potluck will take the place of our normal youth meeting this month. We will have an information table set up and try to get some events and plans set up for upcoming activities. The first event to plan for is the Halloween/Fall festival. It was your number one pick of activities for the year, so we'll spend a couple minutes brainstorming and coming up with a schedule. If you have sports, band or school schedules available by the 11th, please bring a copy of them to Amanda!

Puppet practice!

Tim is back and ready to see what we have prepared for our second skit!

We will stay after church for about a half hour during the potluck and work on our new material. We will not meet on Sept 4th for practice.

Light the Night at Zane State & OUZ

We'll be lighting the night and walking to raise awareness and support research for blood cancers. We'll meet at the OUZ campus at 5:30 for the start of the activities. The walk begins at 7:30. We hope to have new youth t-shirts by then to wear. I also need 2 youth to sell balloons on Sept 11th and 18th. RSVP on Facebook or the church office.
